

Updating Prices on Contract Overage Gallons

Last Modified on 08/04/2026 5:19 pm EDT

Energy Track allows Drivers to update the Prices on Contract Overage Gallons. RET Option 42 is automatically added the first time a download is created or by accessing the RET Options at Supervisor Menu / Maintenance Menu / Energy Track Menu / Re-Engineered Energy Track. This option defaults to N. Update to Y to allow drivers to change contract overage prices.

When the Energy Track Ticket or Invoice is finalized on a delivery that involves a contract overage, the Select Overage Price window displays allowing the driver to select the price to be used on the overage gallons.

- Contract Price – If a delivery rolls through two contracts, the Contract Price selection will be the price of the second contract.
- Quoted Price – Contracts and Market Based Pricing takes precedence over a quoted call in price. If RET option 42, Allow driver to change overage price, is set to Y, then the driver can now Select the Quoted Price for a contract overage price. Manual sales posting will use the price on the tank for contract overages.

The overages, where the price does not match the Daily Price, will display on the Energy Track Price/Dept Override report. This report is located at Management Reports / Exception Report Menu. Deliveries with contract overages made prior to version 19.2.0.0 will show on the report as $0.00 for the original price.

If a Price Type 2 price code is on the contract and there is a contract overage, the Driver will not be prompted to select the Overage Price. The overage gallons will be priced at the regularly figured price and will not appear on the Energy Track Price/Dept Override report.
